

SoloRay in Eco Trip

by Shaun Murphy, Australia 2002

Shaun is ready for the challenge.

To travel on the beautiful Lachlan River.

Against the flow on solar energy.

Which is quite an adventure, getting over the logs and under the branches, following the sun. While Sparky is hiding.

This is exciting, but no sunshine under the branches.

Sparky on patrol.

Being glad that they have made it.

Last leg of the trip - on Parramatta River to Darling Harbour, Sydney, and then more to come.

Michael prepares the new winged Soloray to escort Shaun on the last leg of his journey on Sydney Harbour.

It is a fast and exciting ride.

Finally the trip is at the end.

Shaun is greeted by the media.

Consequently Shaun purchased bigger boat to fit Sparky and a camera crew for similar eco trekking in USA.
