OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY SERVICES

A regional OHS service for regional business – answering the SOS for OHS!

Southern OHS Solutions is the regional OHS&W service provider and is able to assist in the vast array of health and safety issues that face regional businesses, whether by large industrial companies, small businesses or Government agencies. Mark prides himself on the provision of high quality education and consultancy services and at a cost that will suit all business budgets. Mark is regionally based so he is well attuned to the unique challenges faced by regional businesses in managing OHS&W.

Southern OHS Solutions is headed by Mark Braithwaite who has two decades of health and safety experience spanning Commonwealth and State based legislation. Mark has industry experience in healthcare and a sought after trainer and consultant in the Mining and Resources sector.

Mark is highly qualified and is engaged by TafeSA as an OHS&W lecturer where he has become the first ever accredited and approved regional provider of Safework SA accredited courses (Health and Safety Representatives, Committees, etc). Mark has an excellent reputation, being a preferred provider of OHS&W training to SA's largest regional employers in Roxby Downs and Port Pirie.

Southern OHS Solutions is based in Whyalla but offers OHS&W services to the Eyre Peninsula, Mid North and far west regions of the state. Service always focuses on the individual needs of the organisation with the aim of delivering high quality, qualified, professional and personable assistance to ensure the best outcomes are achieved.

OHS&W does not have to be hard, it just needs a qualified and experienced specialist to get you started! For instance, Mark offers a safety appraisal of your business to help identify and prioritise concerns. Also available is a free initial consultation on site (or by phone) to most businesses.
